Olde Tyme Christmas A Great Success

The annual Olde Tyme Christmas on Frankfort Avenue, held Saturday, December 7 was a huge success! Quite a few businesses stated they had record customers that day. We were also very fortunate to have Mayor Abramson present the best decorated store-front award this year. The winners were:

Honorable Mention:	Clifton's Pizza Company
3rd Place:	Frames & Things
2nd Place:	Another Place Sandwich Shop
1st Place:	Margaret's Consignment & Collectibles

Channel 32 gave us the opportunity to broadcast our festivities on the Friday noon news report and Channel 3 & 41 were on hand Saturday to catch Mayor Abramson presenting the awards. At that time he also proclaimed December 7, 1991 as Olde Tyme Christmas on Frankfort Avenue Day and presented us with a certificate!

Barret Middle School's ensemble of holiday music pleased many listeners, as well as the bagpipe duo in front of Another Place Sandwich Shop. Our special guest, Santa Claus and the 3 horse drawn carriages never had a dull moment. Numerous people expressed extreme pleasure with the price of the horse drawn carriages and stated that under normal circumstances downtown, they would be unable to afford such a ride, so it is wonderful that we had the ability to accommodate so many families with this privilege! A good time was had by all!

Everyone has worked diligently in making Olde Tyme Christmas on Frankfort Avenue a success (business owners & residents) and we certainly thank you, our customers, for assisting us in bringing Frankfort Avenue back to life. We look forward to seeing you year-round as well as the next Holiday Season.

Thanks again, have a safe and happy new year.

Another Successful Holiday Open House

The Crescent Hill Community Council's Holiday Open House on December 3 was another success, with a large crowd enjoying holiday decorations, food and music. The weather even cooperated, with snowflakes falling as the guests left the Peterson-Dumesnil House in a holiday mood!

Louise Page and Joann Walker organized the refreshments, and did their usual terrific job, with contributions from neighborhood residents too numerous to mention. Ruth Abraham scheduled the entertainment, including the Kosair Pipes and Drums, the Louisville Singers and harpist Rozanna Thompson. Boy Scout Troop #1 lined the grounds with beautiful luminaries, and kept them lit on a windy night. Michele Hundley and Nancy Owens staffed the Crescent Hill table in the holiday gift shop, and Jane Smith again signed up new Council members. The house never looked better, thanks to the hard work of Alice Winkie and the staff of elves she assembled on December 1.

Thanks to all.

Business/Education Partnership

The Frankfort Avenue Business Association's newly formed Education Committee has been busy assisting our neighborhood schools with various projects.

Barret Traditional Middle School:

Several restaurants have donated lunches to be used by Barret as awards in school projects. The school's string ensemble provided music at two of the restaurants during The Olde Tyme Christmas on Frankfort Avenue on Saturday, December 7, 1991. The school's advanced art class made tree ornaments which were displayed on a Christmas tree in one of the art galleries. Their sale provided funds for the student's art supplies.

Field Elementary School:

Local businesses passed out and posted in their windows posters made by the children to promote the school's annual Fall Festival which took place on Friday, November 1. The fifth grade classes sold their crafts and cookbooks at one of the stores at The Olde Tyme Christmas event. Plans are in the works for a Spring Career Day as well.

Franklin Elementary School:

The Business Association printed and distributed flyers to promote the school's annual fall festival. The businesses are currently working with the school's planned Centennial in 1992.
